

ANNOUNCEMENT

JNCASR conducted an online aptitude test for admissions to the Int PhD programme (Biological Science) on Saturday, May 7th, 2022. While many candidates could successfully complete the test and have done well, few candidates had faced difficulties due to technical glitches. Hence, it is decided to conduct a retest for those who have encountered such problems. In case of students who may take the test twice, the best of the two scores will be considered. The schedule of the retest will be posted soon. The revised interview dates will be announced later.
